PMP Requirements Overview

Help ?

To be eligible for the PMP credential, you need to meet certain requirements for professional experience and education.

Project Management Experience

On the application, you will be required to document the experience you've accrued leading and directing projects under general supervision and within the constraints of schedule, budget and scope.

The experience should indicate you can appropriately apply an approach to managing projects that have reasonable and well-defined requirements and deliverables.

Required Experience Levels

If you hold a four-year degree or the global equivalent:

- You need a minimum of 3 years (36 months) of unique, non-overlapping professional project management experience.
  - Within that period, you need to have led or directed the project for at least 4500 hours.

OR

If you hold a secondary degree, such as a high school diploma, two-year degree or the global equivalent:

- You need a minimum of 5 years (60 months) of non-overlapping professional experience in project management.
  - Within that period, you need to have led or directed the project for at least 7500 hours.

All of your project management experience must have been accrued within the last 8 consecutive years before the submission of your application.

Project Management Education

You need to document at least 35 contact hours of specific instruction that addressed learning objectives in project management. One hour of classroom instruction equals one contact hour needed to meet this requirement.

Record all of the hours that you completed regardless of when you accrued them. All reported coursework must be completed at the time of your application.
